

BURSARS TALKBACK

Since it's your magazine, we take a moment to find out what you really think of us! Find out what others bursars enjoy reading and why Education Executive continues to be the bursar's choice.

We asked for feedback and information on what you'd like to see in future issues and, as ever, the response was fantastic, thank you. We'll take all your comments on board, as always, and we hope you continue to enjoy reading EdExec as much as we enjoy writing it.

Here are just some of the things you took time out to say to us:

“ I like the magazine, and I particularly like the website. Your magazine has a good feel – not jam packed with advertisements like some similar products. I like the interviews; they feel real and are written in an easy to read style. Well done.

TONY SUTHERLAND, ADMINISTRATOR, BLACKHEATH HIGH SCHOOL, LONDON

“ I find the magazine very informative. It covers some of the many aspects of my role. I found the article by James Wilson in issue one particularly helpful as I was setting up an ICT suite at the time.

GREG HODGSON, BUSINESS MANAGER, GAYHURST PRIMARY SCHOOL

“

Having contacted some of the companies you've mentioned in the magazine, I've found them to be very useful. Going forward, I'd love to see more information for the Independent sector.

CHRISTINE GEARY, BURSAR AT INDEPENDENT SCHOOL, QUEENSGATE SCHOOL IN LONDON

“

I must admit that of all the many publications, which pass over my desk, I do take the trouble to take yours home for bed-time reading – and it doesn't send me to sleep! I feel it makes us bursars feel that we are not alone, which is how it often appears. Keep up the good work.

MARTIN WILKES, BURSAR AT DAWLISH
COMMUNITY COLLEGE, DEVON

“

I find the magazine very interesting and the articles are useful to read – it's always good to share information with other schools. I have also put our ICT technical manager on your mailing list as I feel that he can gain useful information from the magazine.

ALEX HUNT,
BUSINESS &
FINANCE
MANAGER,
RINGMER
COMMUNITY
COLLEGE, EAST
